Blair Community Schools
“ Where All Students Learn”

Blair Community Schools' Digital Initiative

The Blair Community Schools is proud to offer our middle school students Chromebook devices for use at home and school. The one-to-one program, which provides mobile computing and wireless technology to our students, has been designed to enhance delivery and assist with individualized instruction.

For parents and students, the following information is provided to help everyone understand the expectations and the responsibility of care and use related to receiving a Chromebook.

We are very pleased to be able to offer this exciting product to enhance your learning and we know our students will treat each device with extreme care and pride.

Background Information for Chromebooks and Digital Learning:

The focus of the 1-to-1 is to provide tools and resources to the 21st Century Learner. Excellence in education requires that technology be seamlessly integrated throughout the educational program. Increasing access to technology is essential for that future, and one of the learning tools of these 21st century students is the Chromebook.

The individual use of Chromebooks is a way to empower students to maximize their full potential and to prepare them for college and the workplace. According to studies and school reports, students who use a computing device in a one-to-one education environment are more organized and engaged learners, attend school more regularly, advance their knowledge and understanding of technology, and become constructors and designers of information and ideas.

The Chromebook is a next generation device that makes learning more engaging and accessible. Learning results from the continuous dynamic interaction among students, educators, parents and the extended community.

Technology immersion does not diminish the vital role of the teacher. To the contrary, it transforms the teacher from a director of learning to a facilitator of learning. Effective teaching and learning with Chromebooks integrates technology into the curriculum any time, any place.

It is our belief that there are many tangible advantages to Chromebooks in Blair Community Schools' classrooms, the most important among them include:

- Chromebooks will allow us to do more collaborative, project-based work.
- The Chromebook will consolidate many functions for students because they offer unlimited resources, including, but not limited to the following: textbooks, notebooks, lab books, calculators, email, calendars, cameras, video recorders, maps, world atlases, language dictionaries, etc.
- We will operate more efficiently and sustainably. Teachers will provide digital resources electronically, and students will have access to those resources in class.
- Chromebooks will allow us to create "Digital Learning Experiences" for the students of the Blair Community Schools by moving from traditional textbook selection to digital textbooks. Digital textbooks can revolutionize teaching and are not simply the digital form of static textbooks.
- Using a portable digital device will itself be an important 21st Century skill that our students should learn. The future is rather clear on this point: professionals in all career fields will be using mobile devices like Chromebooks in their work.

Effectiveness of these changes:

There are many indications that leveraging technology can improve the opportunity for educational access, improve student engagement and achievement, and improve learning productivity:

- According to the U.S. Department of Education and recent studies by the National Training and Simulation Association, technology based instruction can reduce the time students take to reach a learning objective by 30-80%. According to a meta-analysis and review of online learning studies by the U.S. Department of Education, on average, students in online learning conditions performed better than those receiving only face-to-face instruction.
- According to Project RED, a national research and advocacy initiative focused on how technology can revolutionize education, continuous access to a computing device for every student leads to increased academic achievement and financial benefits, especially when technology is properly implemented. www.ProjectRED.org
- Online collaboration contributes to improved graduation rates and other academic improvements, according to Project RED.

Student engagement

Today's students are "digital natives"- they are growing up in a decidedly digital world. Digital learning educates students using the same technology they use for communication and entertainment outside of school – smartphones, tablets, and laptops. It is not that students are only engaged by technology, but instead the passive, one-size-fits all education practices are not adequately adaptable to each student's needs and aptitude.

Richer, more personalized classroom experiences

The digital learning environment has modular lesson plans and content, adapts to individual learning, monitors student performance, and encourages small- and large-scale collaborations among students.

Equity

Digital learning can improve the opportunity to learn for ALL students by ensuring access to a full range of tools, resources, content, and courses regardless of zip code or socioeconomic status.

Content

Digital content includes richly diverse fields of knowledge, supporting opportunities for interaction with materials, resources, and experts beyond the classroom. Digital content is always up-to-date and virtually infinite, supporting a wide variety of interests and topics.

Cost

Replacing textbooks, as well as tests and other printed materials with digital content, often includes cost-saving expectations. While not all uses of technology improve cost-effectiveness, properly implemented technology has the potential to yield tangible savings in printing, transportation, and warehouse costs.

This “damage” includes, but is not limited to, the loss of data resulting from delays, non-deliveries, missed deliveries or service interruptions caused by the student’s own negligence, errors or omissions. Use of any information obtained via BCS designated Internet system is at your own risk. BCS specifically denies any responsibility for the accuracy or quality of information obtained through its services.
- Helping BCS protect our computer system/device by contacting an administrator or teacher about any security problems they may encounter.
- Monitoring all activity on their account(s).
- It is good practice to turn off and secure their Chromebook after they are done working to protect their work and information.

Social Media Guidelines for Students

1. Social media venues are very public. What you contribute leaves a digital footprint forever, usually even after it is deleted. Do not post anything you wouldn't want friends, enemies, parents, teachers, or a future employer to see. Make sure what you post promotes a positive image to the world.
2. Follow the school's code of conduct when writing online. It is acceptable to disagree with someone else's opinions, however, do it in a respectful, constructive way. What is inappropriate in the classroom is inappropriate online.
3. Be safe online. Never give out personal information, including, but not limited to, last names, any phone numbers, addresses, birthdates, and pictures. Do not share your password with anyone besides your parents, and teachers if necessary.
4. Linking to other Web sites to support your thoughts and ideas is recommended. However, be sure to read the entire article prior to linking to ensure that all information is appropriate for a school setting.
5. Do your own work! Do not use other people's intellectual property, including pictures, without their permission. It is a violation of copyright law to copy and paste other's thoughts without proper attribution. When paraphrasing another's idea(s) be sure to cite your source with the specific web address.
6. How you represent yourself online is an extension of yourself. Do not misrepresent yourself by using someone else's identity.
7. Blog, wiki, and other online posts should be well written. Follow writing conventions including proper grammar, capitalization, and punctuation. If you have permission to edit someone else's work be sure it is in the spirit of improving the writing.
8. If you run across inappropriate material, that makes you feel uncomfortable, or is not respectful, tell the supervising adult right away.
9. Cyberbullying is not tolerated. The actions that may be taken against participating individuals are clearly outlined in the student handbook.
10. Students who do not abide by these terms and conditions may lose their opportunity to take part in the project and/or access to future use of online tools.

Parent Chromebook Guide to Student Use

Blair Community Schools recognizes that with new technologies come new challenges to both teachers and parents. Below is a series of suggestions drawn from a wide variety of professional sources that may aid you, the parent, in effectively guiding your child's use of the Chromebook.

1. Take extra steps to protect your child. Encourage your child to use and store the Chromebook in an open area of your home, such as the kitchen or family room, so you can monitor what your child is doing online. Use the Internet with your child to help develop safe browsing habits. Children often model adult behavior.
2. Go where your child goes online. Monitor the places that your child visits. Let your child know that you're there, and help teach her/him how to act as he/she works and socializes online.
3. Review your child's friends list. You may want to limit your child's online "friends" to people your child actually knows and is working with in real life.
4. Understand sites' privacy policies. Internet sites should spell out your rights to review and delete your child's information.
5. Limit the time your student is on the Chromebook. While the Chromebook is a very engaging device, it is a school-work device. Care and constant monitoring will reduce your child's exposure to excessive use.
6. Report unwelcome or malicious online threats. Report in a timely fashion to the school any online interactions that can be considered threatening.
7. Help your child develop a routine. Many parents have found success by helping create a routine for their child's computer use. Define a routine as to how the Chromebook is cared for and when and where its use is appropriate.
8. Take a look at the apps or programs. It is to the advantage of the students, parents, and school that the parents have a working understanding of the programs and student work found on the Chromebook.
9. Read and share with your child the BCS care and use policies. By reading and discussing the care and use policies, you can create a clear set of expectations and limitations for your child.
10. Please explain to your child that his/her Chromebook may be inspected at any time. Your child should have NO expectation of privacy of any materials found on an Chromebook.
11. Remind your child to bring his/her Chromebook to school daily. If your child leaves his/her Chromebook at home, he/she is responsible for getting the course work completed as if he/she had an Chromebook present.
